

Chang Named Top Producer At Coldwell Banker Office

Linda L Chang was recently named top producer at Coldwell Banker's San Marino office for her 1998 production. The announcement was made by Dale Williamson, branch manager.

Chang was recognized for her outstanding achievements as a real estate professional. The honor doesn't surprise many who know her well. Chang has been honored as the number one sales associate in her office 11 out of the past 12 years.

A 14-year member of the company's distinguished President's Club, Chang also continues to achieve membership in the prestigious International President's Elite. Year after year, she ranks among the company's top sales associates for Coldwell Banker's Southern California region.

A longtime resident of San Marino, Chang is actively involved in numerous community, charitable and professional organizations.
She is a member of the Pasadena Junior Philharmonic and a foundation member of California State University of Los Angeles. She can be reached by calling 622-449-5222.
